I got the impression that they were looking for a negative angle in that there was no action from the government.

I think I was able to turn that around by confirming that you personally messaged me immediately after their last article and you confirmed that any such decision was subject to certainty of vaccine supply from the Feds.

They seemed happy with that response. Hopefully they write it that way.

Always happy to help you whenever.

As you always said, you needed the certainty of vaccine supply before you could do this.

So, we'll done. Pls let me know if there's anything else I or my people can do to assist you.

Thanks. Didn't want the Taylor tour to be a negative for Queensland or for your government to be criticised for not have done something. I tried everything but sometimes simple economic reality dominates.
